

TOUR HIGHLIGHTS:

The Wichita Citation Service Center is located on a 124-acre site at Wichita's Mid-Continent Airport. With over 443,000 square feet, the facility can service over 100 Citations simultaneously. The building has numerous customer lounges and offices, flight planning areas, a restaurant, and a gift shop. The exterior of the facility is equipped with a dedicated run-up area, two compass roses, and four fuel farms. In addition to maintenance hangers, the building has approximately 104,000 square feet of office space that house the majority of Cessna's Citation Customer Support personnel. Some of the functions that are located at the Wichita Citation Service Center include Cessna propeller/Citation product support, CESCO, and propeller/Citation technical publications.

Due to the proprietary aspect of this event we were unable to provide photos of the center (guess you should have been there).

Our speaker was Terry Marx, 1st VP of WMA who spoke on our "state of the association". We also held our formal vote for the 2008 Board, which passed on a single slate.

Board for 2008: Terry Marx, President, Ellen Shofler, 1st VP
